Libraries.—The great and increasing demand for books, and the numerous private libraries which are being formed in our country, are gratifying evidences of the intedectual advance of the people. It is not less gratifying to know that this increase is universal, and that it not only creates a large demand for American literature, thereby advancing the interests of our native talent, but has also made a vast market for foreign works. We learn that in Europe the prices of old books and standard literature have advanced at least thirty per cent., and that this advance is attributed by dealers in England, France, and Germany to the American market. We have now in this construction by dealers in Europe; and if our readers could visit the libraries of some of our Southern planters, they would be surprised to learn even the money value of the books before them. It is a specialty of many Americans, and a noble object it is, to secure all of the early printed works relative to the history of our own country. Others have selected the period of our Revolution as the object of their collections.

It is plensing to know that amid the lethargy of our public institutions and state government, private enterprise is doing so much for the future history of our nation. Some of our state historical societies deserve great praise; but it will hardly be credited that the Historical Society of Wisconsin, so young a sister in our Confederation, has expended more money for books the past year than any other so siety of the same character in the United States. This demand for foreign publications is by no means confined to works relating to eur own country. Many goultemen have large libraries on special subjects, such as trade and commerce, numismatics, agriculture, and in fact almost every topic has its votary. Friend Gough is not tich—save in moral trophies and the benedictions of the good; but be has managed to lay by enough to buy a very attractive house. The house is a white Italian cottage. Far up on a commanding elevation, with a retinue of royal hills about it, looking right down into waving groves of maple and chestant, and into meadows kneegroves of maple and chestnut, and into meado ws kneedeep in verdure, with all the unending green of New England uplands in full view, stauds the sum nerhome of our young Boanerges. Here he throws off the paneply of the reformer, and turns practical farmer, lis corn bespeaks good tillage; his 'Melocatoons' would grace a Jersey peach-basket. The humor that convulses vast audiences abroad, makes our brother a most entertaining host, and quietly streams off him in abundance of pleasant sketch and aneedote. During may late visit, a deep and delightful revival of religion was in progress in the rural church of Boylston. I preached every evening to solemn auditories; after service a brief meeting was held for inquirers. Mr. Gongh is an extemporized bishop of the flock, as they are without a regular pastor. He superintends the Sabbath-school, leacs the choir, and addresses the inquiry meetings. What an April shower of blessings to a Church one inyman can be, if he only has a heart to work and to give. The 'Lee Avenue' Sabbath-school in Brookiyn can testify to this."

CHILDREN ASKING FOR ADMISSION TO PRISON. CHILDREN ASKING FOR ADMISSION TO PRISON.—On Saturday a touching and painful case was brought to the notice of Judge Thompson, in the Court of Quarter Sessions. On the day previous two pretty little girls, aged respectively six and nine years, were found knocking tearfully at one of the large doors of Moyamensing Prison. They were admitted into the institution, where they stated that their father and their mother were both in prison, that their landlord had turned them (the children) out of doors, and that they wanted food and shelter.

The story told by the hapless children proved to be correct, end the matter was referred to the Court at the seggestion of the Inspectors of the Prison. The little creatures were sent to the Northera Home for Friendless Children, at the suggestion of the Attorney for that excellent institution. [Phila. Bulletin.

THE RICHMOND DUEL.—The late difficulty between THE RICHMOND DUEL.—The late difficulty between Messrs. Pryer and Finney is said to have originated about the account of a discussion at Accounce, between the Doctor and a person of the name of Curtis, published in the correspondence of The Enquirer, which stated that Finney attempted to reply, but did not speak five minutes before he quit the stand. Finney denounced Pryor as a rascal, and said that he would post him as a coward for publishing the account. Pryor met him near the Exchange, and on the language above given being repeated, he struck Finney in the face. Therefore a challerge was passed and a meeting took place. Finney was badly wounded, the ball entering his right hip. [Washington Star.

ROWDYISM AT THE POLLS.

Recorder Smith yesterday held Court at his office in Chembers street, and took a large number of affidavits and complaints against policemen and citizens for interfering with voters, and disturbing the election on Tuesday, in various Wards in the city. Warrants were issued for the arrest of all the parties against whom complaint was made, and placed in the hands of the squad of officers attached to the Recorder's Court. At a late hour last evening a number of these Border Ruffians were still at large, the officers having been unable to find them at their usual haunts-the rum-shops of the First Ward. The following are the affidavits of several of the complainants in this matter:

City and County of New-York, st.—Felix Daffy of the City of New-York, residing at No. 105 Greenwich street, being duly sworn, east that he went to the Hild District in the First Ward to attend the polls street, being duly swern, says that he went to fit the Hild District in the First Ward to attend the polls as a challenger; that deponent was a votor in said ward; that deponent was taken hold of by a police man and dragged from the polls; that deponent then went to Captain Halpin and requested protection to vote; the Captain replied that he had not sufficient force to protect me; that William Foster, a constable of the First Ward, then shoved deponent away from the polls and told deponent he should not vote, and deponent was unable to vote. At about 10 o'clock deponent returned to the polls and got part of the way into the room. A person unknown to deponent came and asked deponent if he was going to vote. I told him yes. He handed me a Wood ticket. I told him I had one. He then dragged me out and said I should not vote. While this person had hold of me a person came up and struck me, and I was kicked in the back. All this time policemen were by and did not interiere to prevent the outrage. As I got to the door William Wilson, the candidate for Alderman, called out, "Give it to the son of a b—h." JAMES M. SMITH, Recorder.

At 1 o'clock in the afternoon John E. Enright was arrested by Sergeant Waish and taken before the Recorder. On being asked if he had any witnesses, he said he had none at present, but came prepared with his buil. He could call upon the officer who was present when the affray took place. The Recorder remarked that he had a warrant out for him (the officer). James Roach of No. 102 Water street became surety for Enright's appearance at the next Term of General Sessions in the sum of $1 000. The Recorder informed the accuse of this he would send the papers to the Grand Jury te-morrow, and that the case would probably be tried on Friday.

charge. John Dalton, Lieutenant of the First Ward, was arrested and brought before the Recorder on the affidsvits of Thomas Jackson and James Bullock of the First Ward, which stated that said Dalton, with other policemen, had seen Jackson beaten and did not interfere. The accused said he was not ready for examination, upon which the Recorder told him he should be obliged to commit him to prison. Dalton asked, however, to be admitted to bail, which the Recorder refused until after his examination.

Dalton-But, Sir, you know me well enough to be aware that I can procure bail and can do my duty.

Recorder—I know, Sir, that if what is charged against you be true, you have been guilty of serious orimes. I know no person in the discharge of my duty, nor have I any personal friends. The accused was then permitted to send for bail, and William P. Powers, keeper of a porter-house at the corner of City Hall place and Chambers street, became his bail in $2,000, being $1,000 on each of two charges against him.

The Recorder stated that he was determined to carry the law into effect to the fullest extent in case of conviction with every public efficer who neglected his duty. The punishment is six months Penitentiary and a fine of $250.

Dalton declared he was on duty elsewhere at the time charged in the affidavit.

Walter H. Wyait, from the Eighth Ward, made the following statement before the Recorder:

I applied at the place designated by the Inspectors of Election or others for the reception of votes from legal voters. I first went there at 6] o'clock a. m. The polls were not open. The crowd was so great that I was kept over an hour with no prospect of voting, and I went away. I returned at 12] o'clock, and remained an hour. The crowd was more intense, and, from all appearance, calculated to obstruct repectable and quiet citizens from voting, and to the especial interests of certain parties. The time occupied by each vo'er, according to many persons who kept time, was about half an hour. I again returned at 3 o'clock, and remained in the crowd and pressure until the polis were closed, yet had no opportunity of depositing my vote, and during my stay there I found Capt. Turnbull and other police officers under his charge pretending to relieve the crowd, but at the same time were crowding in special voters and at the same time appealed to by many to make better regulations, and I was myself, just before the polls closed, struck by a policemaa who had pussed in four several times, with from three to four different parties each time, and there must have been at least from one to two hundred voters at the closing of the polls who were similarif obstructed.

W. H. WYATT, No. 525 Broome street.

John Gilmartin of No. 2 Madison street, also made an affidavit that on the 4th of November William Mount, policeman, was present at one of the polls of the Seventh Ward, and saw the ticket-box and tickets destroyed and did not interfere to prevent it, but rubbed his hands and commenced laughing while the box and tickets were being destroyed. The Recorder adjourned the Court at about 3 o'clock till 9 o'clock to-day, when he will continue the investi-

CITY ITEMS.

SELLING OUT A FAST MAN .- Henry H. Leeds, vesterday morning, hung out his red flag at No. 86 East Twenty-second street, over the door of a very sning brown-stone English basement house, lately occupied by a Wall street note broker, who has taken up his residence in a grey-stone house in Centre street; charged, it is said, with being a very good penmanso good indeed, that he could write his neighbor's name better than the owner could write it himself. The appoundement that the household effects of Chas. B. Huntington were to be sold at auction, attracted the most dense crowd that we have ever seen gathered around the last remains of a millionaire's household goods, when about to be passed under the auctioneer's hammer. The great attraction was not the desire to buy, but to see how the lion's den was fitted up. Unless they took a look before the commencement of the sale, they certainly did not see much, and we venture to say that those who bid upon the carpets, could not tell a single color, so closely were they covered with feet, or hid by sweeping skirts, which were there in full expansion. We doubt not a good many hoops will need repairing before the skirts can make another spread. Anticipating a jam, we took occasion to look in early in the morning, before hoops and skirts were astir, in hopes that we could find enough to make a stir in certain circles, when we should print what we saw. Really, we were unfortunate in our adventure. We found nothing more extravagant than we have seen before a hundred times. The house was neatly, chastely, and richly furnished, as a wealthy gentleman's house should be-nothing more. There was, perhaps, a little excess in articles of bronze and small Parian marble ornaments; though these may have been put in to fill up the sale. The most extravagant furnishing was in the basement, where every desirable article to facilitate cooking and servants' work was provided. The dining-room, also, had an ample provision of table furniture, including a handsome set of plate, and a safe in which to lock it up. This room, which is on the main floor, in the rear, is only large enough to seat a good large family. The other part of the floor is occupied by the main hall and stairway, and a small reception-room and a butler's pantry. The parlors are in what the country people would call the chamber—that is, up one flight of stairs, filling the whole width of the house (which is not over 20 feet) front and rear, with a center parlor open to the stairway, connecting the two, so as to make one room 50 or 60 feet long. There was nothing extravagant in the furnishing of these parlors, unless it was in a fine bookcase, well filled with volumes that appeared to be kept more for show than use. The upper rooms were furnished with everything that the most refired occupants of sitting-rooms of bedrooms could desire; and it did excite our regret to think how rudely these sacred precincts of a family were broken into by a crowd of eager curiosity-hunt-ers, who were, perhaps, gloating over the fall of a fellow-man, rather than thinking of the sad fate of the wife so suddenly and unexpectedly driven from such a home. It moved us to sorrow, as, hour after hour, the auctioneer's hammer fell upon these goods, and his voice cried out the many names of the purchasers, to think how widely all these home-comforts will be scattered to-day, and how desolate will be the home of the necused forger.

FIRST IN THE FIELD .- The Rocky Mountain Club of the Fifteenth Ward, the Banter Ward, and the only Ward in the city that gave Fremont a majority, will hold a meeting this evening at Academy Hall No 663 Broadway. An address will be delivered by David Dudley Field.

TWESTIFTH WARD REPUBLICANS -The Twentieth Ward Republican Club will hold their regular weekly meeting at Continental Hall this evening. There being no quorum present last evening, the Board of Councilmen was declared adjourned to this evening. We understand that a difference of opinion exists between Recorder Smith and Judge Capron (who with the May or act as a Board of Police Commissioners,) as to the powers of the Board to receive complaints egainst members of the police, the law creating the Board specifying that the Board shall "try" charges egainst policemen. The law empowers the Mayor to receive complaints, but gives no such power into the hands of the Board; Judge Capron takes this view of the case. Thus far there has been no meeting of the Board Numerous charges were brought, yesterday, against ersons for violations of the election law, before Judge Capron, sitting as a magistrate at his office. As the parties have yet to be arrested their names have not transpired.

Most of the goods were placed in sacks and conveyed to the building adjoining where they were deposited in a lawyer's office, where

He was held the light to Cahorne for grammatic. to bail by Justice Osborne for examination.

You no Men.—Phrenology teaches parents for what occupations in life their children are best adapted, and in which they can be successful and happy. How many men drag out a disappointed life for want of this knowledge! The Hon. T. J. Rusk observes:

"When a man properly understands himself, mentally and physically, his road to happiness is smooth, and society has a strong guaranty for his good conduct and usefulness." Phrenology teaches parents the exact characteristics of children and how to manage them properly, to what faculties to appeal, what declires to restrain and what to call into action. WEDNESDAY, Nov. 5-P. M.

There was a very large business done at the Stock Board to day, the transactions in railroad shares alone reaching 33,600 shares. The main activity continues to be in Eric, Reading and Toledo, and the tendency of the market is still upward. The turn which commenced on Monday seems to be a strong offe, and has been maintained with scarcely a reaction. The mar-ket since that day has recovered the loss of the preceding six days. The improvement from the lowest point has been 3 ? cent in Erie, 3} ? cent in Reading, 5 P cent in Toledo, 3 P cent in Central, 5 P cent in La Crosse, 3 P cent in Michigan Central, 5 P cent in Michigan Southern, 3 P cent in Galena, 24 V cent in Pittsburgh, 3 P cent in Rock Island, &c., &c. Although the fall was considered unreasonably rapid the advance has been still more violent. The purchasers of outsiders who consider the leading stock as having fallen low enough, and the coming in of shorts who held the same views and who had oversold the market, was the original cause of the reaction, and this has been assisted by the favorable tenor of the foreign news and of the Bank Statement. The advices now due at Habiax by the Can-ada are looked for with much interest, and will have an important bearing on the market. Eric opened at 84 and closed at 504, a further advance of 4 W cent. Reading was very buoyant, and after the Second Board sold as high as 75], an improvement of 1; P cent on yesterday's price. We saw a private dis-patch from Philadelphia to-day, stating that the esignation of Mr. Tucker as President of this road had been accepted, and Mr. Cullen elected to fill the vacancy. Central was firm at 834. Cumberland coninues very firm at 17, and is being gradually absorbed by parties who believe it to be worth much more than selling for. The improvement in Western shares s marked, especially in those which fell off most rapdly. Michigan Southern improved to 86, buyer thirty; Cleveland and Toledo to @; Michigan Central to 931, which is higher than it was before the recent fall; Galena to 1604; La Crosse to 76, as improve-ment of 5 $\psi$ cent, &c. In Railroad Bonds the business is to moderate extent, but quotations are very firm. Illinois Central advanced to 881: Eries, 1875, 901: New-York is, 85; &c. State Stocks are firm, but not very active. Missouris sold at 80%. In Exchange there is but little doing, and rates tend downward. Sterling is 8| 291, with very few signatures celling above 91 V cent. France are 5.223 95.181. To Liverpool Freights are a shade sasier, but to other ports rates are firmly sustained. The ongagements to the above port include 40,000 bush Grain et 81 #94. 3,000 bbis. Flour at 2s., Cotton at 5-32d., and Heavy Goods at 25s @ 27s. 6d. To London-2,500 bbls. Flour at 3e.1 jd. 25,000 bush. The Philadelphia papers state that Cambles & Bro. brokers, whose suspension was noticed a few days ago, have arranged with their creditors.

There was some difference of opinion in the street to-day in regard to the Money market, but the general impression was that there was no relief from yesterday. In some quarters, however, there was a better supply, and the better class of stock-houses were ensier. Paper is in good supply in the discount houses, and some of the capital which has been employed in this way has been within a few days put into stocks. But few names can be passed below 10 P cent, unless at very short maturity. The range for four and ix menths' paper of first class is 10 # 12 W cent.

The steamer to-day from Boston took $779,000 in gold, of which $729,000 went from here.

The Commerce at this port for October has been made up at the Custom-House, and shows a decrease as compared with last year both in Imports and Exports of Merchandise. The falling off of the former is two and a half millions, and of the latter, exclusive of specie, half a million. The exports of specie show a very large increase on October, 1855. The figures are: IMPORTS FOR OCTOBER:
